

WINTERS HOUSE

AL-V-A-040
Old Legislative Road between Midlothian and Carlos
ca. 1890

The Winters House was built in approximately 1890 and is typical of the type of frame structure that was constructed in the county during the turn of the century. Although the house is in deteriorated condition, remodeling has been kept to a minimum and thus the house retains many of its original features such as peaked cornices, transom lights, and the chamfered columns and brackets which support the porch. The house is located on a hill overlooking the Old Legislative Road and is one of a group of late 19th century houses still extant in the area.

DESCRIBE THE PRESENT AND ORIGINAL (IF KNOWN) PHYSICAL APPEARANCE

The Winters House is located off Old Legislative Road between Midlothian and Carlos, Allegany County.

The Winters House is a two story, three bay wide, "L" shaped frame structure that is covered with novelty siding. A recent single story cement block addition is located at the apex of the "L". With the exception of the block addition, the house rests on a low stone foundation. The roof is gabled with a boxed cornice and returns and is covered with asphalt shingles. Windows in the structure are double hung wooden sash frames with two over two lights and pediments. The main entrance, located on the east side of the house, features a verticle paneled door with a transom light. It is covered by a hipped roof, three bay end porch. Three corbeled brick chimneys are located at the inside gable ends of the building.

STATEMENT OF SIGNIFICANCE

The Winters Frame House was built circa 1890 as a rather fashionable residence, considering the style of life in Allegany County at this time. The structure is typical of the basic style of frame house found in the county during this period. However, features of the house that are uncommon to the typical frame residence include the peaked cornices, the door transom and the chamfered columns with brackets supporting the porch roof. The house is very similar in appearance to the frame house, Crying Shutters AL-V-A-039, found along Route 36 in Wright's Crossing. Both houses are of the basic two story, three bay wide, "L" shaped frame structure, however, unique architectural features are found on both.

Although the house is in deteriorated condition, remodeling has been kept to a minimum and the house remains an architectural document of a way of life found in Allegany County in the late 19th century.
